From the front seat of my Red GT

It's Show Time

It is that time of year again and time for our annual show at the Concord Mall. This is the time when we need all hands to help. There will be plenty to do so when Carl asks for help let's all pitch in and help make this the best show we have ever had. The date is Saturday August 17th. Set up time will be August 16th and Carl will announce the time and where to meet at our next meeting which will be at the Concord Mall parking lot just in front of the main entrance on August 12th. If you want, several of us meet ahead of time in the Subway restaurant and have a quick bite before we meet. The meeting will start at 7:00

Despite a couple of rain showers we had a great time at the picnic and enjoyed the great company. Thanks to Phil who helped me cook and to Hal and Rose for picking up and bringing the liquid refreshments. A special thanks to all who brought food items to share. Special congratulations go to Bob Relos who won the annual Paul Houseman award.

Don't forget your door prizes, if you haven't turned them in please do so at this meeting or please bring them early the day of the show.

See you at the Concord Mall

Vacation Time?

Jennifer had applied for a job and when she returned home, her mother asked how the interview went.

"Pretty good, I think," replied Jennifer, "but if I go to work there I won't get a vacation until I'm married."

Her mother, of course, had never heard of such a thing. "Is that what they told you?"

"No," replied Jennifer, "but right on the application it said 'Vacation time may not be taken until you've had your First Anniversary.'"

Postcards from the Picnic

As usual we had a good turnout for this year's picnic, even with on-and-off rain throughout the day.

Bob Relos won his third Paul Houseman award.

Meet our Neal Decker Scholarship winners on page 5.

Lobster Tales

The seafood restaurant's sign read, "Big Lobster Tales, $5."

Amazed at the great value, a customer asked the waitress, "Five bucks for lobster tails? Is that correct?"

"Yep," she said. "It's today's special."

He remained skeptical. "Are they little?"

"No," she replied, "they're big."

"$5 each? Are they old?"

"No. Fresh today."

"Wow! Great! Here's my five bucks."

She took his money, led him to a table, sat him down, leaned over close and began, "Once upon a time, there was a really big red lobster..."

2013 Neal Decker Scholarship Winners

Dear Scholarship Board,

My name is Crysta Surface. I am a senior at Clay High School. I am on track to graduate with the core 40 diploma. In the fall of 2013 I will be attending Goshen College to major in American Sign Language. I plan to attend Goshen for four years to gain my degree in American Sign Language.

After I have graduated I plan to go to Indianapolis to find a job somewhere near ISD (Indiana School for the Deaf), the largest school for the deaf in America. I have already accomplished two years of Sign Language classes at Penn High School and was involved in the ASL club as well. I have been to many deaf events such as Deaf Church and a Deaf Concert.

Sign Language is a large part of my life and I hope to make a difference in the world when I graduate college. I really hope you guys allow me the opportunity at this dream by helping in whatever way you can.

Thank you,
Crysta Surface

My name is Aaron Thompson and I am writing this essay to explain my intent and need for the Neal Decker Scholarship that the Michiana Mustangs are offering. I have dedicated myself to success regarding my education for many years now, and am willing to devote many more to achieve my goals. I am currently attending Lindenwood University in Belleville, IL and majoring in biology. I plan to utilize my biology degree by becoming a physical therapist and assisting in patient recovery following physical injury. Although I am in my freshman year, I am quickly becoming aware of the significance of financial aid and the limitations that arise with the lack of fiscal assistance. Although I am grateful for the opportunity and access to a quality education to better myself, I am finding it nearly impossible to pay for books and other college supplies. I hope to use the courtesy of your scholarship to pay for these necessities.

I was raised to be kind, understanding, courteous, and respectful. In addition, I have a strong work ethic and have stood by these morals. My entire life I have tried to help people with their problems and provide the best advice I could. My day-to-day goal is to live a life that I will be able to look back on and be proud. Though I have had my share of troubles and disappointments, they have provided me with valuable learning experiences. Academically, I am very competitive; I strive to do the best I can. If my best is not good enough, I will begin again and try even harder.

I am proud to say that throughout my life I have had several academic accomplishments. One of my first accomplishments came in fifth grade when I was selected to present the speech I prepared on Martin Luther King Jr. at a private event. I was excited to be selected out of my classmates and this gave me further motivation to work diligently towards academic excellence. During my senior year, I was given the opportunity to take a class called Cadet Teaching. This class offered advanced students a chance to work alongside a teacher to assist them in classroom activities. I was selected as one of the top cadet teachers and chosen to assist in a YMCA event where we chaperoned a three-day camping trip for sixth graders. I thoroughly enjoyed this experience and it has strengthened my desire to work with others. These academic highlights were some of my most memorable achievements.

I am proud of my academic achievements, as well as my dedication for the betterment of the community. I recently participated in a clean-up, consisting of a two hour hike down a stream running through our town – picking up garbage along the path. It was a rewarding experience that I would love to participate in again. I have also enjoyed volunteering at a variety of school activities and events. These experiences gave me a great appreciation for community relations and I look forward to volunteering in Indiana upon completion of my degree.

I would be honored to be the recipient of the Neal Decker Scholarship, as I believe it would generously contribute to my educational career and personal goals. I am genuinely dedicated to continuing my education, and hopefully you will take my entry for the scholarship into consideration. Thank you, and the Decker Family, for your time and thoughtfulness of this offer.

Sincerely,
Aaron Thompson

Kathleen Bringman

March 6, 1955 - July 9, 2013

NAPPANEE — (Former member) Kathleen "Ruby" Bringman, 58, of Nappanee, died at 4:10 p.m. Tuesday, July 9, 2013, at Indiana University Medical Center.

She was born March 6, 1955, in Miami, Fla., to John and Bettie (Wood) Kendrick.

On Oct. 16, 1993, Kathleen married Peter Bringman in Nappanee.

Kathleen worked at LuAnn Nursing Home. She loved NASCAR and drag racing. She also enjoyed going to car shows and was especially fond of Fords.

She is survived by her husband, Peter; son, Fletcher Garner of Cary, N.C.; daughter, Janeca Adkins of Nappanee; grandchildren, Donovan Adkins, Grace Adkins, Destiny McKinney; mother, Bettie Kendrick, Sebring, Fla.; and brothers Larry Kauffman of Nappanee and James Kendrick of Nappanee.

Kathy and her brother James were members from 2008 to 2010.

Dad Reunited With First Car

Car unchanged 24 years later

AOL Autos.

By: AOL Autos Staff

Check out the priceless look on this dad's face when reunited with his first car after 24 years.

Rick Lookebill had been trying to find his 1972 Mustang Mach 1 since he sold it. When he brought up finding the car again his children became determined to surprise their dad with an unforgettable gift. They tracked down the Mustang and bought it from the current owner in Florida. Besides a little rust and wear it was the same car Lookebill watched drive away years ago.

After he spotted the car in his backyard, amid tears and laughter, Lookebill jumped in and immediately gave the engine a good rev. The video was posted on YouTube in April but has just recently gone viral after it was posted on the popular website Reddit where it received 1,600 comments.

Chevy featured a similar story in a video for their 'Chevy Runs Deep' ad campaign. In the video a son surprises his father with the 1965 Chevrolet Impala SS after the family sold it in the mid 1980s. This car took five years to track down, but his father's reaction makes all the effort worthwhile.

Marcellus Parade

By Axel Garrison

Saturday June 15th Papa asked me if I wanted to go to the Marcellus Bluegill Festival. I didn't know what that meant but I did know what Bluegills were. They are the fish in our pond that I like to chase. I haven't caught any yet but I keep trying. I put my whole head under the water to catch them and they keep swimming away. Oh yeah, back to the Festival. I told Papa it sounded like fun even though I didn't know what he was talking about.

So, we loaded up in Mama's '94 GT Convertible and away we went. After about an hour of me asking if we were there yet, we arrived in a little town with the main street blocked off. I thought, "This is it, Papa must be losing it". Then we turned onto a back street/ parking area by a grain bin and I knew Papa had lost it. Then Uncle Andy came buzzing around the corner in his tractor; that's right a tractor, and I knew I had to call those guys in the white suits. Well I got introduced to Uncle Andy and liked him, he's a dog person. He told me that Aunt Sally couldn't be there because she was working. I met Aunt Sally a few months back at our house. Anyway, after a few minutes I heard a familiar sound, no not Mona, it was a few Mustang exhaust tunes. Around the corner came Mona, Becky, and Art. Papa warned them that I had not received my licker license yet but they were all dog people and didn't mind. In fact Becky even took me for a walk. After a while the parking area began to fill up. Papa was trying to teach me a parade wave but I was too excited to pay attention. Mona was detailing her car and I tried to supply help but she wasn't having it.

It was now time to load up. Papa put on my Mustang shirt; no not on himself, on me. It wouldn't fit him! We loaded up in the convertible and then the most fantastic thing happened. The roof started peeling back! I said what the *. Papa said watch your language; this is a family parade! But I had never seen this before. I did not know it was possible. I asked Papa if we could do this in the Mach, he said it wasn't a good idea. That's when I told him it was already partially modified and it would look cool. He told me to shut up. Well, it was time for the parade. We traveled thru the back streets of Marcellus with Mona, Becky, and Art behind us. Papa was waving to everyone he didn't know and I was trying to wave but I Papa said I was using the wrong end. People were so friendly waving to us and pointing and laughing. It went so fast that before I knew it we were back where we started from. I will have to say that if you like parades, you really need to make this one next year!! Well, we said goodbye to Mona, Becky, and Art and left for an uneventful trip home. I told Papa I had a great time and was glad we didn't run into any 16 year old girls!!!

Axel, looking very stylish before the parade.

Lined up for the start...

Ford builds USAF Thunderbirds Edition Mustang for charity

By Jeffrey N. Ross

Posted Jul 2nd 2013 1:29PM

Each year since 2008, Ford has created a one-off Mustang to celebrate military aviation, and the cars have been auctioned off at the Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) Gathering of Eagles charity event to raise money to inspire the next generation of aviators. This year's charity car is the 2014 Ford Mustang GT US Air Force Thunderbirds Edition, which also helps celebrate 60 years of Thunderbirds air show excellence.

Of all the EAA charity cars, this Thunderbirds Edition is the most in depth. Painted to match the F-16 Tomcat fighter jets used by Thunderbirds, this Mustang also gets a widebody kit and 22-inch Forgiato wheels to go with the cockpit's Recaro bucket seats, rear-seat delete and modified navigation screen and gauge cluster. Even the Mustang's projector puddle lights have been changed to show an aircraft silhouette – rather than the Mustang's galloping horse logo – when the doors are open.

Themes for previous EAA charity cars include the Blue Angels, SR-71 Blackbird and the Red Tails as well as the F-22 Raptor-inspired AV8R and AV-X10 "Dearborn Doll" models.

IDIOT SIGHTINGS

I handed the teller at my bank a withdrawal slip for $400.00.

I said "May I have large bills, please"

She looked at me and said "I'm sorry sir, all the bills are the same size."

When I got up off the floor I explained it to her...

How would you pronounce this child's name? "Le-a"
Leah?? NO Lee - A?? NOPE Lay - a?? NO Lei??
Guess Again.

This child attends a school in Kansas City, Mo.
Her mother is irate because everyone is getting her name wrong. It's pronounced "Ledasha".

When the Mother was asked about the pronunciation of the name, she said, "the DASH don't be silent."

SO, if you see something come across your desk like this please remember to pronounce the dash.

If dey axe you why, tell dem de dash don't be silent.

STAY ALERT! They walk among us... and they VOTE

For Sale!

If anyone is interested in Bob Christena's 72 Mach 1, I am entertaining all bids. Please let me know. Hope to see you soon. Warm Regards, Becky Christena (219-874-4487) or likethebluebird@comcast.net

Bob Goeller has Paul Houseman's collection of Mustang Times and wants to find a home for them. They are from 1980-2000. He also has a 1994-98 stock fiber-glass hood for $65.00. You can contact Bob at rg67stang@sbcglobal.net or 574-286-5312 .

What's Your I.Q.?

A man enters a bar and orders a drink. The bar has a robot bartender. The robot serves him a perfectly prepared cocktail, and then asks him, "What's your I.Q.?"

The man replies, "150", and the robot proceeds to make conversation about global warming factors, quantum physics and spirituality, bio mimicry, environmental interconnectedness, string theory, Nano-technology and sexual proclivities.

The man is very impressed and thinks, "This is really cool." He decides to test the robot. He walks out of the bar, turns around, and comes back in for another drink.

Again the robot serves him a perfectly prepared drink and asks him, "What's your I.Q.?"
"About 100," the man responds.

Immediately, the robot starts talking, but this time, about football, NASCAR, fishing, supermodels, favorite fast foods, guns, and women's breasts.

Really impressed, the man leaves the bar and decides to give the robot one more test. He heads out and returns; the robot serves him and asks, "What's your I.Q.?"

"Err... 50, I think," the man replies.

And the robot says ... real slowly... "So... ya gonna follow the Colts again this year?"

Doctors in Translation

Doctor: "This should be taken care of right away."

Translation: I'd planned a trip to Hawaii next month, but this is so easy and profitable that I want to fix it before it cures itself.

Doctor: "Let me check your medical history."

Translation: I want to see if you've paid your last bill before spending any more time with you."

Doctor: "We have some good news and some bad news."

Translation: The good news is, I'm going to buy that new BMW. The bad news is, you're going to pay for it.

Doctor: "Let me schedule you for some tests."

Translation: I have a forty percent interest in the lab.

Doctor: "I'd like to prescribe a new drug."

Translation: I'm writing a paper and would like to use you for a guinea pig.

Doctor: "If it doesn't clear up in a week, give me a call."

Translation: I don't know what it is. Maybe it will go away by itself.

Doctor: "I'd like to run some more tests."

Translation: I can't figure out what's wrong. Maybe the kid in the lab can solve it.

From the Back Seat...

It's Showtime!

Once again August is here, and with the change of the calendar comes our show. This year it's on the 17th, and as always we're looking for members to come out and help. If you have come out before, you know that it's not that difficult. If you're new to the club or haven't gotten involved before, come out and give it a try. We can always use help on Friday the 16th to put up fencing for crowd control, or show up early on the 17th (6-7AM) and you can help put up the tents or finish the parking lot setup. After that we can always use help parking cars, or working with the judges as they go out into the show field. You don't have to have previous experience; you can learn a lot by being the secretary of a judging team. We can find things for you to help with, and it's a great way to get to know other members. Besides, how bad a day can it be if you're surrounded by Mustangs and Mustang people?

There are a couple of other events in August for most of us to try for the first time. Old National Bank at Heritage Square in Granger is having their annual 'Pink Heals' car show on Monday, August 19. I've been to the previous shows and enjoyed them thoroughly. It's an open show so you see quite a variety of vehicles, it's a very laid-back show, more of a cruise-in, and it's for a very good cause.

On Saturday, August 24, take a trip to Kouts and be part of the Porkfest celebration. We'll have a group of cars in the parade (everyone who shows up), and Kouts puts on quite a day of celebration. Join us!

Have a great month...
